

Vijaya Kumar
Active member,
Indian Angel Network

Vijaya Kumar (known as IVK) is an active member of Indian Angel Network, a syndicate for early stage capital to invest in the start-up companies, in emerging areas of technology.

He consults in the areas of business strategy and transformation through new age technologies covering the areas of embedded systems, Cloud services, Big Data analytics and Mobility. One of his primary engagements is Crayon Data, a Singapore based Big Data Analytics Company, where he serves as their Chief technology advisor.

Also, he is one of the co-founders of India Innovation Labs, a start-up in the field of augmented reality and Robotics, which focuses on the Digital media and tourism segment. In the recent past, he was CTO of Wipro's IT businesses and his responsibilities included Technology Strategy Planning; Governance of Center of Excellence, Innovation Process & external innovation, Technical Stream Management and Technology alliances with industry and educational institutions.

He has been with ICT industry for the last 25 plus years and is one of the leading experts in innovation management and advanced technologies incubation in India.